By Greta Gloven

Investments & Wealth Monitor (I&WM) recently was awarded an Azbee Silver Award of Excellence from the American Society of Business Publication Editors (ASBPE) and an EXCEL Silver Award from Association Media & Publishing (AM&P).

“The Investments & Wealth Monitor has long been an industry-recognized leader in advanced investment and wealth management education,” said Sean Walters, CAE, chief executive officer of the Investments & Wealth Institute.

“The combination of cutting-edge information, strong writing by acclaimed academics and leading industry professionals, and the redesign of the publication to reflect the new Institute brand make each issue a ‘must read’ on any professional’s reading list.”

ASBPE’s Silver Azbee Award, Central Region, recognizes I&WM for excellence in business-to-business media in the “Magazine Redesign” category. AM&P’s EXCEL Silver Award recognizes I&WM for excellence in association publishing in the “Magazine Redesign” category.

“Both of these competitions are among the most prestigious award programs in the trade media industry—they recognize only the best in editorial and design,” Walters said. “We are honored to receive this recognition and thank our many volunteers who work diligently on the Investments & Wealth Monitor to make each issue more successful than the one before.” ●
